

Challenger Research

Actionable Intelligence
Exceptional Value

Our transparent expert network delivers rapid, professional, and accountable insights at the intersection of geopolitics, innovation, markets, and security.

Mission Statement

In an age defined by uncertainty - speed and clarity are the ultimate strategic advantages.

Challenger Research delivers both.

Our mission is to redefine geopolitical research through a transparent, human-driven network of experts that keeps pace with AI reporting while surpassing it in reliability, accountability, and depth. Our research is led by verified specialists - strategists, business professionals, and senior leaders - working through a flexible, contract-based model. Their expertise is unified by our core team to deliver precise, end-to-end solutions.

Unlike traditional think tanks and research institutes - where as little as 40-60% of a budget may go towards the actual research - our model directs as much as 80-90% of the funds straight to the work itself*. Clients invest directly in expertise - not overhead - gaining access to real analysis, real people, and real accountability.

Our Core Offerings

1. Rapid Commissioned Research Reports

Our team delivers deep, data-driven reports within 2-3 months, supported by experts drawn from across disciplines - geopolitics, economics, defense, science, and industry.

Our network delivers expertise on demand:

2. Strategic Sector Research

We continuously track key emerging domains - space, critical minerals, and drone technologies - producing forward-looking reviews that forecast shifts in capability, competition, and regulation.
